

ABBZIA

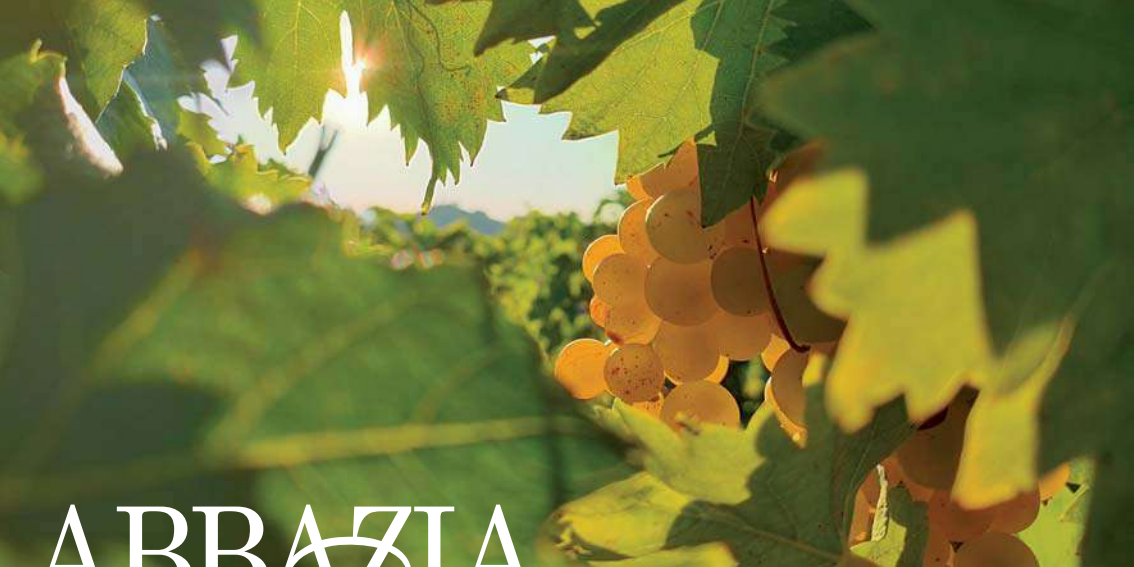

We are in Santo Stefano Belbo, a small town in the south of Piedmont, in the centre of the best area for the cultivation of grapes, between the hills of Langhe and Monferrato. The landscape is made of a mosaic of vineyards that cover the hills from the bottom of the valley to the highest peaks. A beauty impossible to embrace with a single glance.

We are a family run winery. Since generations, Santeros oversaw the transformation of bunches of our grapes into glasses of sparkling wine. “The earth has never betrayed anyone ...” is one of the mottos of Mario Santero, the dean of the family, now in his eighties “... if you give it the right attention, the earth will give you only good fruits”.

Moscato Valley

We are in the center of the so called “Moscato Valley”; we are surrounded by vineyards defined as “heroic” because of the steepness of these hills. The beauty of this landscape is recognized by Unesco. Soils mainly made of calcareous and clayey marls, with sand veins guarantee to Moscato Bianco grapes an extraordinary balance between natural sugars of the grape and acidity. Here wines are characterized by great aromatic complexity and finesse. In the four different estates of our vineyards, we manually harvest the grapes, looking for the best ripeness according to the altitude and exposure of the rows. We also cultivate the rare Moscato Nero, used to produce Moscato Spumante Rosé.

LINEA FORTUNA

“Fortuna” is the new Abbazia series, designed and created during the first pandemic Lock-down in 2020. When a climate of fear dominated and people were worried and frightened, Abbazia was thinking positive! Indeed, this line was born from the idea of boosting confidence and hope for the future. The concept of the four-leaf clover, which has always been a symbol of good luck, was born with this positive attitude towards future in mind.

Italian Style

More than twenty years ago, alongside with many colleagues from the Veneto region, we understood the growing interest of consumers for drier sparkling wines, starting to produce Prosecco when this was still a simple IGT wine. As a confirmation of our “know how” to make Prosecco well, we are members of the “Consorzio di Tutela del Prosecco Doc” since its foundation. Prosecco Doc is a social habit that has become an icon of Italian lifestyle. We also produce Rosé and Organic and offer it in different packaging. We can become your reference point for Italian style in the field of sparkling wines: from Prosecco to Brut, from Rosé to sweet sparkling wines.

Continuous Innovation

It was in 1850 when in this valley, the so called “Moscato Valley”, it began the first production of sparkling wine in Italy. For decades the most important producers of sparkling wine have promoted the cultivation of these vineyards by building wineries. This “know-how” has been our family’s heritage for generations.

We have been crafting sparkling wines for over 170 years. Our goal is to transfer into the glass the primary aromas of the grape in the most unaltered way possible. We are also working to move cooling technologies toward greater sustainability. Third-party organizations regularly certify our quality standards.

Since its inception, Abbazia Wine Estate has demonstrated a peculiar sensitiveness towards nature and the wild life living in it. Never before have we been at such a crossroads in history as we are now: take care of our home or be the cause of its end. In 2021, Abbazia has decided to adhere to the WWF's program "FIRMS FOR THE ENVIRONMENT" by sustaining their initiative "FOR NATURE FOR US". This is an international program embracing the most challenging issues for the entire planet: from climate, to deforestation and poaching. The brand new "ZÖE LINE", which funds this initiative, is our way to convey the idea to act now! For the nature, for us!
